TEAM WELLNESS

Wing Team Training & Certification

Support Boston MedFlight's Wing Team—our specially trained, all volunteer peer-support group that provides crisis intervention, emotional support, and resilience resources for staff. Your sponsorship helps sustain peer-to-peer crisis response by funding training such as International Critical Incident Stress Foundation (ICISF) courses, Acute Stress Adaptive Protocol (ASAP) training, and annual peer-support certification.

Workplace Wellness

Fund workplace wellness enhancements, including upgraded crew break rooms, ergonomic Communications Center workstations, fatigue-mitigation tools, and onsite wellness resources.

Mental Health Speaker Series

Bring nationally recognized experts to Boston MedFlight for workshops on trauma, recovery, leadership during crisis, and resilience-building.

To explore partnership opportunities, please contact our team.

For more than five years, our specially trained partners from Kanine First Responders (K9FR) have been visiting our bases—bringing comfort, lifting spirits, and supporting the well-being of our crews.

Protecting the mental health and well-being of those who serve others

Behind every lifesaving mission are crews who face intense stress, complex medical emergencies, and emotionally challenging situations. Boston MedFlight prioritizes the safety and well-being of our teams through robust mental health initiatives, including our nationally recognized Wing (Peer Support) Team.

Sponsorship ensures that the caregivers who support our community receive the support they need and deserve.
